The director of mines recently told a convention that there is enough coal underlying U. S. lands to supply the nation for 7,000 years. All of which is very valuable information if people are interested in coming generations rather than in the people who happen to be alive at present and are called upon to pay abnormally high prices for the coal they burn.

It may be that some of the potential or dark horse candidate for the Republican presidential nomination are keeping still with the secret hope that the active candidates will "slip and fall." It sometimes happens in politics that campaign mistakes of the active candidates rebound very certainly to the benefit of the silent aspirants.

Somewhat we can't enthuse over the much talked about aerial mail service which the government has established between certain large cities and for which a considerable appropriation has been made. Possibly to keep pace with other nations there must be some development of this kind, but with such tremendous problems pressing for satisfactory mail service thru railroads and for improved conditions in the movement of freight traffic, the problems of aerial transportation might with propriety take secondary consideration.

Newspapermen who recently held a convention in Kansas City naturally spent most of their time in discussing newspaper and the present shortage. There was some difference of opinion among them about the advisability of the formation of a league to urge special enactment by congress for the distribution of print and general supervision of the industry. It is a debatable question whether the newspapers would profit by such a measure, for it hasn't been the history of industry or business that government supervision has increased efficiency or made business the easier.

It is said that visitors to Mexico are often at first impressed with the thoughtful attitude of the natives. They will sit for hours almost in one position and give the appearance of being absorbed in thought. But later on the observer finds that it isn't a case of deep thinking but of non-thinking. The native simply sits quietly and evidently without mental activity, for nothing results from these periods of abstraction.

If they think it must be along this line: "What's the use? If I work and earn it is all taken in taxes. If I do not work in some way I manage to live. What's the use?"

There seems to be more than one reason for the congested housing conditions in nearly all cities. The usual reason given is cessation of the building program during the war period. In the state of New York reports show that there are 24,000 unoccupied and tenable farm houses.

Applying these figures in a proportional way to other states of the union, a big movement of the country population to the cities is shown. That movement is largely the result of the high wages paid in the manufacturing plants. Possibly with a slowing down of the industrial program there will be some return of these workers to their former homes.

Rippling Rhymes
By Walt Mason

ANOTHER STRIKE.
The cost of ink drives men to drink, if there were liquor; and paper pads demand the seeds till bards grow sick and sicker. I bought some wire to fix my lyre, for it was badly busted; and oh, the price! It must suffice to say that I'm disgusted. And so the song I pass along costs more in its production; and if I fail to draw more kale, I'm facing black destruction. The wreath I wear around my hair, of laurel, you remember, cost twice the sum that wreaths less bum were sold for last September. The cost of feed for my winged steed would break a village banker, and I must raise the price of lays or lose my windward anchor. A fountain pen costs iron men, and makes the wallet lighter; the ko-pecks fly, for I must buy a ribbon for my lyre. Ten cents a yard for any bard was fair remuneration before the craze of later days came down upon the nation. But now I hold that lyrics hold should bring a higher figure; I ask you, gents, for fifteen cents or I shall strike with vigor.

REPUBLICANS HELD
GET-TOGETHER SESSION

Met at Dinner and Talked About National Campaign Finance

A Republican conference made up mainly of members of the county central committee, was held at Peacock Inn Wednesday night. Dinner was served in excellent form at 6:30 o'clock and afterward came a number of informal talks, all relating to the coming national campaign and especially to financial plans.

W. L. Alexander, who is chairman of the Morgan county financial committee, called the assembly to order and asked E. E. Crabtree to preside. The first speaker was R. W. Wells, a representative of the Republican national committee. He explained in a brief way National Chairman Haye's plan of securing the funds necessary for the campaign through a general subscription. It has been Mr. Haye's announced plan to have the fund needed subscribed by a large number of people making moderate subscriptions rather than from a small group giving large amounts. It has been explained that the chairman has suggested this plan for two reasons. First, to avoid criticism, which always comes if men of great wealth or large corporations are called upon for heavy contributions. Second, Mr. Haye and other members of the national committee believe that those who contribute to a popular subscription fund will have an interest in the campaign which might not otherwise be developed.

Quotas have been made for the different states and others in accordance with population and conditions. After Mr. Wells' informal explanation of the national committee plan, brief talks were made by State Auditor Andrew Russell, John J. Reeve, W. L. Fay, H. H. Bancroft, George Wheeler, H. M. Capps, Dr. J. R. Harker, W. L. Alexander and C. F. Wemple of Waverly.

Mr. Alexander, who is always an enthusiastic worker in party affairs, expects to have a committee of ten working with him and in connection with the members of the county central committee to speedily raise the amount allotted to Morgan county.

Winchester, May 26.—The class day exercises of the Senior class were held Wednesday evening at the Christian church. All who took part in the evening's entertainment performed in a creditable manner, and this year's class day exercises rank among the very best in the history of the school.

The accompanists were Mrs. W. H. Kinison, Miss Louise Dawson and Miss Mary Elizabeth Roark, and their contribution to the evening's program was a large one.

The church was beautifully decorated with ferns, cut flowers and the class colors, green and gold, and were everywhere in evidence. The decorations this year were in charge of the sophomores and they deserve much credit for the excellence of the work done.

INDEED, IT IS WELL to be tie-dicated, for there is to the discerning eye a vast difference between tie silks.

—The secret of warm-weather comfort is—wear the coolest, most sensible underwear you can find—and a cool, pleasant shirt, one of our fine summer shirts—then put on a straw or Panama—and don't think about the weather.

MANY FACTORS go to making these ties that good dressers choose.

FOR ONE THING the fine selected silk yarns—FOR ANOTHER, the particular depth and tones of the colors—an art in itself and one in which few makers excel.

AND THE THIRD, the judgment displayed in harmonizing the colors.

DO YOU JUST WHAT CAUSES YOUR RHEUMATISM

Can You Will Be Able to Treat It Intelligently.

The medical profession has not fully determined all of the uses of Rheumatism, though they are pretty well agreed on two points.

The first is, that the disease is more than a mere local trouble, but the pangs of pain come from a source that is far below the surface, and therefore it is not reasonable to expect any rational relief from a treatment that is locally applied and reaches only the surface.

When you realize the logic of this conclusion, you will see that you are really wasting your time and money if you are expecting permanent relief from the use of liniments, lotions, and other locally applied treatment, which can only reach the surface, and have a effect whatever upon the origin of your trouble.

Any disease should be treated at its source, and especially one that causes as much suffering as Rheumatism. The only treatment worth while is one that will show progress toward getting at the source of the disease, and freeing the victim from its shackles.

The other point that the medical profession has agreed upon, is that some forms of Rheumatism are caused by a tiny disease germ in the blood, which multiplies by the million, and until these germs are routed from the blood, you can see how futile local treatment will be. In fact, you can use liniments by the gallon and never hope to reach the cause of your trouble.

So many people have found real permanent relief from their Rheumatism by the use of S. S. S. that its use is justified in practically every case. Certainly if your Rheumatism is due to a germ in the blood, as so many thousands of cases are, you should lose no time in beginning the use of S. S. S. because you can rely upon this fine old blood remedy to do you more good than any other treatment.

S. S. S. is beneficial in Rheumatism because it is such a thorough blood medicine. It cleanses the blood of all impurities, and eradicates the germs which cause Rheumatism. The wonderful results it has accomplished in other cases is proof of its great merit. S. S. S. has been on the market for more than fifty years and is sold by all druggists.

You are invited to write our medical department for full information and advice about the treatment of your own case, for which no charge is made. Address: Chief Medical Adviser, H. Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Georgia.

MAKING READY FOR SUNDAY SCHOOL MEET

Local Committees Met Wednesday Night With State Secretary—Hundreds Coming for the Convention.

The local committee of the state Sunday School convention met with the state secretary, George N. Burney, of Chicago in R. Kopper's office at 7:30 last evening.

The convention will be held in this city, June 15, 16, 17. A number of committee chairmen were present and reported progress and good response in the general plans. Miss Anna Hopper and Miss Mary Mathews, who are interested in the pageant plans explained their ideas for developing very attractive and instructive pageants. It is to be one of the greatest features of the convention and those who fail to see it will miss much of the convention.

C. L. Mathis, who has general charge of the entertainment committee reported plans well under way. He and his sub-chairman of the auto committee, T. M. Tomlinson, had committees appointed in each of the churches, who would offer for furnishing of autos for getting trains and taking delegations to their places of entertainments.

T. V. Hooper reported for the church committee, and prepared plans for serving lunches in each of the churches, so as to accommodate each of the groups meeting.

Charles E. Williamson, chairman of the house and location committee reported arrangements made with the various churches for the accommodation of the several meetings. C. C. Bayha reported for the county credential committee and said he had blanks secured in several places for registration and that he would send blanks to each church.

C. H. Story, chairman of the finance committee reported for the committee, who will secure the funds necessary to defray the local expenses of the convention. James Guyette, chairman of the music committee, reported favorable progress in the securing of instruments and arrangements for the music.

Frank Caldwell reported for the decorations committee and discussed the method of decorating and arranging for each division of the conference. He suggested that the merchants might use the Sunday school colors of red, blue and green in decorating their show windows during the conference week.

A. C. Metcalf, secretary of the local committee, and J. S. Findley were also present at the meeting. The session was very helpful and instructive. The state secretary and chairmen of the various committees are very anxious to plan so that the very best results may be secured thru the fellowship and council of the great gathering. A few years they entertained the state older boys conference in the city and many of the hosts and hostesses were reluctant before the conference date to offer their homes to those boy delegates, but at the close of the conference many of the same persons expressed their great appreciation to both their guests and the conference leaders for having had the privilege of meeting such many Christian young men.

It is the hope of the local committee that the citizens of Morgan county will not allow this great host of the best people of the State of Illinois to come to our doors and not make the effort to enjoy their fellowship and good cheer.

Morgan county and Jacksonville want the best of all good things and so will entertain this conference in the true Morgan county spirit of friendliness.

CEMENT WORKERS WANT PROTEST FILED

Say Proposed Railroad Order Will Interfere With Road Building Plans.

Henry Frisch as president of the Jacksonville Chamber of Commerce yesterday received a request from the Portland Cement Association asking that protests be filed against an expected transportation order. The telegram in substance was as follows:

Chicago, May 26. A press article reports the association of railway executives intends urging the interstate commerce commission to refuse cars and transportation for all highway work in order to divert labor and material to the railroad field. We suggest that you wire vigorous protest to Thomas Cuyler, chairman railway executives association, E. E. Clark, chairman interstate commerce commission, and H. H. Ashton, president American railway association, emphasizing the necessity of continuing essential road work for further relieving transportation conditions and assisting in distribution of food fuel and other essential commodities. The state construction program has already been curtailed to vitally needed sections which have been neglected for three years. Any restriction in transportation of highway materials means further postponement of the construction of state bond issue roads.

If a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce directors were held to consider this matter it is quite likely that there would be a difference of opinion. The cement manufacturers themselves have been frequently charged with materially interfering with the hard road program because of the high figure quotations made on all cement products.

NINTH CONVENTION

When the ninth quadrennial Republican party convocation met in Chicago, June 9, 1888, James G. Blaine was still towering giant among all Republicans. Particularly after Cleveland issued his famous tariff message and the Mills bill was introduced, circumstances and necessities seemed to call "the Plumed Knight" once more to leadership. But ill health made such activity for him impossible. Blaine refused to allow the consideration of his name—although some delegates insisted upon voting for him to the end.

The only other candidate of previous convention prominence was John Sherman of Ohio, who had twice previously sought the palm. Sherman led for six ballots. At first his nearest competitor was Walter Q. Gresham of Indiana. Then General Russell A. Alger of Michigan forged to the fore. Other candidates on the roll were Senator Allison of Iowa, Chauncey M. Depew of New York, Jeremiah B. Rust of Wisconsin, William Walter Phelps of New Jersey, John J. Ingals of Kansas, E. H. Fittler of Pennsylvania, McKinley of Ohio and Robert T. Lincoln.

General Benjamin Harrison of Indiana started modestly with 80 votes; crowded Sherman on the sixth ballot with 231 votes; went into the lead on the seventh with 278 votes; and was nominated on the eighth and last ballot with 544 votes.

One ballot then sufficed to complete the ticket with Levi P. Morton of New York—who with 591 votes, found his nearest competitors in Phelps of New York, with 119, and William O. Bradley of Kentucky, with 103. The temporary chairman of the convention was John H. Thurston of Nebraska; the permanent chairman, Maurice M. Estee of California.

The platform "congratulated our fellow citizens of Irish birth upon the peaceful recovery of the home rule for Ireland;" charged democracy with criminal suppression of negro votes in the south; opposed the immigration of Chinese labor; re-emphasized tariff protection as paramount; invited South Dakota, North Dakota, Washington, Montana, New Mexico, Wyoming, Idaho, and Arizona into the union; once more banned polygamy, demanded penny letter postage; and arraigned Cleveland for his opposition to pension legislation.

WILL DISCUSS NEW MARKETING PLAN

Prominent Men Coming for Agricultural Association Conference June 15th.

Mention has already been made of the district meeting to be held here June 15 under the auspices of the Illinois Agricultural association. William G. Eckhardt, who is director of the grain marketing department of the association, is arranging for a series of congressional meetings for the consideration of the subject. Elevator men and producers from all over the district are expected to attend.

It is the expectation to have an entirely new sales system in effect the coming season. There are about 600 farmers elevator companies operating in the state and the plan contemplates united marketing effort with these elevator men and the farmers.

The Morgan county farm bureau has charge of the arrangements for the conference here. Among the speakers who are expected to attend in addition to Mr. Eckhardt are Charles Adkins, director of the state department of agriculture; Herman Hanforth, president Federal Land Bank, St. Louis; Lawrence Farlow, secretary Farmers Grain Dealers association, and J. C. Sallor, former president of the association.

Onions are being shipped out by the car load. The weather is quite warm.

S. M. Henderson had the misfortune to step on a rusty nail last Thursday noon. The nail pierced a rubber boot sole and a good half inch into the middle of the left foot, making a very painful wound, which seems to be doing as well as can be expected.

Ninety-day corn seems to be in strong demand. Your correspondent has sold to a number of farmers a new variety and has no more to spare. The corn is a white, with a few purple grains, and a splendid corn to mature early, and yields 55 to 60 bushels an acre.

Mrs. August Brockhouse and sister, Mrs. Charles Oberste, started to Harbline, Neb., on Saturday evening in response to a message telling of the death of Mrs. Walters, a sister of George Perbix.

MISS IDA KAHN IN INTERESTING ADDRESS

Native Chinese Physician Tells of Needs of China—Is Here to Attend Conference in New York City.

Miss Ida Kahn, a native Chinese doctor, and superintendent of the Methodist Memorial Hospital at Nanchang, China, spoke yesterday afternoon and last evening in Grace church to interested audiences.

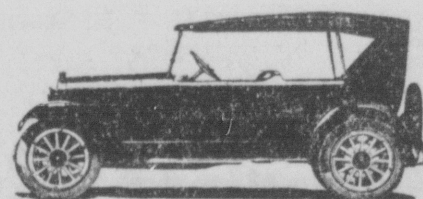

Miss Kahn is in this country as a representative of the Chinese Y. W. C. A. to attend the World's Health and Morality Conference which meets in New York City.

In her talks the theme was a plea for the development of Chinese women, for the nation cannot rise above the heights to which its women attain and today China with her 4,000 years of history behind her and the Anglo-Saxon race with its culture are the only stable integrities in the world.

China and Japan, she said, were following two diverging policies; China a constructive development along the lines of peace, and Japan attempting to dominate the Orient with her militarism.

Among those from out of the city who attended the meetings, were: Rev. and Mrs. Thomas Simmons, Mrs. John Rayburn and Mrs. Charles Rexroat and daughter, all of Concord; Mrs. Cline and Mrs. Falscroft of Arenzville; Rev. C. W. Andrews and wife of Ashland; Rev. Walter Mitchell and wife of Waverly.

Back Hurt?

When the kidneys do not properly do their work or purify the blood stream, waste products and poisonous acids remain in the system and cause backache, rheumatic pains, lumbago, sore muscles, swollen joints, stiffness, lame back and similar symptoms.

Foley Kidney Pills

regulate and restore the healthy, normal action of kidneys and bladder, bringing clean blood and better health, with freedom from aches and pains.

J. George Hudgins, Bennington, Vt., writes: "Last fall I was attacked with lumbago and suffered untold agony. I had a severe pain across my back and at times could not dress or undress myself. I was advised to take Foley Kidney Pills for my trouble. After taking them for a few days the pain in my back left me and I have not had any lumbago since that time. I thought that was months ago. I recommend Foley Kidney Pills to all who have lumbago."

Daily Market Report

TRADING IN STOCKS

COVERS WIDE RANGE

NEW YORK, May 26.—The stock market made only indifferent progress toward further recovery today although developments dealing with financial developments contributed to a better feeling. Trading covered a wider range but there were no indications of public interest.

The call money market remained fixed at 6 per cent while renewals of time loans soon to expire were negotiated at 8 1/2 to 8 3/4 per cent, a slight concession from recent rates.

Domestic monetary considerations were overshadowed by the activity of foreign exchange, with heavy purchases of remittances to central Europe. Trading in these bills was said to be larger than at any time since the close of the war.

German bills or marks rose to $3.15, Austrian kronen also made noteworthy improvement and Italian exchange, as expressed in terms of the American dollar, gained over a lire.

According to competent observers, slow progress is being made in relief from freight congestion.

Stocks were strong at opening, hesitant or irregular during the mid-session and unsteady at the close, a majority of the industrials making net losses. Liberty bonds, excepting the 3 1/2's were mostly higher, the foreign group also strengthening. Total sales (par value) aggregated $18,500,000.

FRESH ADVANCES

CHICAGO, May 26.—Fresh advances in the value of corn and oats took place today largely as a result of statements by Herbert Hoover regarding the prospective food situation. Corn closed strong 2 1/2 to 4 1/2 cents net, higher, with July 1.69 1/2 to $1.69 1/2 and September 1.57 1/2 to $1.57 1/2. Oats gained 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 cents to 3 1/2 cents and provisions 10 cents to 70 cents.

Except May delivery, the corn market showed an upward trend from the outset. A ruling that because of the breakdown railroad transportation no penalty would be exacted from defaulters on May contracts here had a bearish effect at first as to that month. July and September deliveries, however, continued responsive to the persistent meager offerings here and to renewed export demand for wheat. Meanwhile widespread notice was being taken of Mr. Hoover's assertion that decrease in agricultural production might result in this country becoming dependent on overseas food supplies. Buying power broadened out and land simultaneously grew scarce. From Monday on all months advanced sharply, and the close was at the top figures of the session.

Oats ascended with corn. Shippers were active buyers. Higher quotations on grain and hogs lifted provisions. Bids for July pork especially found no offerings until a big advance was paid.

GRIMMETT FOUND GUILTY BY JURY

The trial of Alva Grimmert began when court convened Wednesday afternoon and the jury received instructions shortly before 6 o'clock. Grimmert is the man who is charged with stealing a number of bottles of wine from the cellar of W. N. Hairgrove's residence a few months ago.

The jury returned a verdict at about 8:45 o'clock finding Grimmert guilty as charged. The jurors were: Joshua Vasconcellos, George W. Eades, E. J. Christopher, Fred Sheburn, P. S. Hodges, James McDonald, C. J. Roberts, Newton Angel, Don Cowgur, John Hoger, Henry Rubie and Carl Graubner. The defendant was represented by J. O. Priest and States Attorney Robinson conducted the prosecution.

A suit case said to have belonged to Grimmert was found at the Wabash station and contained thirteen bottles of the wine taken. The suit case had been left at the lunch room of the station by Grimmert but he claimed on the stand yesterday that the suit case had been handed to him by someone else and that he did not know about the contents. He insisted further that he did not know where W. N. Hairgrove lived and that he had never visited the cellar there.

Judge Burton made an order of continuance in the cases on the people's docket against Charles S. Magill. LAST RITES SAID FOR BENJAMIN WOOD

Services at Residence Were in Charge of the Rev. W. H. Marbach—Members of Matt Starr Post Attended Funeral in Body.

The funeral of the late Benjamin Wood, held Wednesday morning at 10:30 o'clock, attracted a large gathering of friends to his late residence on South Kosciusko street. Especially were notable a goodly number of members of the Grand Army of the Republic, veterans, who like himself had seen the rigors of army service. Miss Patterson, sang beautifully two selections, "Jesus Lover of My Soul" and "Free from Sorrow and Care."

The services were conducted by Rev. W. H. Marbach, who read suitable portions of Scripture and offered prayer. He read a brief biography of Mr. Wood, mentioning the fact that he was one of the resident veterans so interested in the beautiful monument whose completion he was destined not to enjoy much as he had desired it.

He then took for his text the words, "Let the beauty of the Lord our God be upon you and establish thou the work of our hands; yea the work of our hands establish thou it." Some of his thoughts are given:

"The great theme here is man's mortality and God's immortality. This is shown in the many vicissitudes of life. We think of the many things by day and night as a soldier on guard or a mother by the bedside of her child thinks of what the morrow may bring forth. Sometimes life is pleasantly ended in sleep as was the case with our departed brother, who peacefully passed away."

"Many soldiers have not thus ended their lives but have breathed their last on the field of battle or in the hospital or have fallen by the way on tedious march or under many various trying circumstances."

"The great thought of our text is God's power and loving care of us. At night the man, weary with the duties of the day retires to his home on earth to enjoy the pleasures of his fireside and so our brother has gone to his eternal home for a rest which will never end. He came home from the war and now he has gone to the abode of his loving father with whom he will remain always."

"We like to have our work established. We do not like to be forgotten. As the monarchs of Egypt carved their names on the mighty pyramids of stone that man in future generations might read and remember, so do we like to establish our memories in some way."

"Today we are in the presence of a man who has established his memory in a way which can never be forgotten but will endure as long as our nation lives for he fought to preserve it. It is pleasant to see so many of his comrades here today for it well shows the esteem in which he was held by our nation's sons."

"Our Savior says, 'By their fruits ye shall know them.' So let us live kindly, generously, tender and devoted at home; patriotic and public spirited that the work of our hands may be well established and we shall be remembered after we have gone."

The discourse was closed with the beautiful poem of Whittier, ending with the words:

"I know not where His islands lift
Their fringed palms in air;
I only know I cannot drift
Beyond His loving care."

The beautiful ritual of the Grand Army of the Republic followed after which the remains were borne to Jacksonville cemetery by C. H. Howard, R. C. Allen, William Floeth, A. C. Metcalf, W. J. Wood, and D. W. Osborne.

Many beautiful flowers were in charge of Miss Jean Jenkinson, Miss Norma Dawson and Mrs. Clark Green.
